About Stirling

Stirling Resources Limited is a West Australian resources developer focusing on investment and development of copper, gold and zircon projects and has significant investments in Redbank Copper (ASX: RCP), Matilda Zircon (ASX: MZI) and Swan Gold Mining (ASX: SWA).

Stirling consists of experienced resource development and mining personnel with track records of creating shareholder value. Personnel previously took control of a financially distressed manganese producer and developed it into a diverse mineral commodity producer to become included in the ASX 200 and was ultimately taken over by an international conglomerate for $1.25b. That company grew from being a small unreliable manganese producer to ultimately supplying 10% of the world's high grade manganese to global customers and developed projects in chromite, nickel, copper, zinc and iron ore.

Stirling's strategy is to identify projects that comprise commodities considered to have strong future demand, and with favorable geological characteristics. The focus is on brown fields projects close to development or production.

Driven by the underlying fundamentals of the Chinese economy and their continued substantial urbanization process taking place requiring commodities such as copper, gold and zircon (for the use in ceramics and porcelain) Stirling is well placed to benefit from the resulting strong continuing demand for these resources.
